Re: *Steven R. Andrews v. Executive Office of the Governor, State of FL, Superior Court of California, County of Santa Clara, 114CV271389 (Internal Ref. No. 497403)

Dear Steven R. Andrews:

We have received your subpoena for documents, dated October 02, 2014, in the above-referenced matter seeking documents related to the Google Account account(s) GOV.RLS, BRADPIE, SARAH.HANSFORD09.

Google has received a Petition for an Order to Quash the Subpoena Duces Tecum Without Deposition Filed by Respondent, Steven R. Andrews and will refrain from taking any further action in order to allow the Court the opportunity to rule on the Petition.

Google Inc. ("Google") objects to the subpoena to the extent it fails to allow sufficient time for Google to notify the affected user and for the user to assert his or her rights in response. Google has forwarded notice of this matter, including your name and contact information, to the user at the email address provided by the user. Google provides its users at least 20 days to object to your request or inform Google of their intent to file a motion to quash. If the user does not object and the subpoena is not objectionable for other reasons below, Google will thereafter respond to the subpoena. Google reserves the right to further object to the subpoena in any response.

Google objects to the requests in the subpoena to the extent they seek information already in a party's possession or available to a party from some other source (including public sources) that is more convenient, less burdensome or less expensive. This means that if you are seeking information from Google that is equally available from a party in the litigation, Google objects to that request on that basis.

Google also objects to the requests to the extent they seek information containing confidential financial, proprietary or trade secret information, or any information subject to a confidentiality agreement or protective order. While Google does not require a protective order for production of its non-confidential information, Google will only produce information it deems confidential pursuant to a confidentiality agreement or protective order that it deems suitable for the protection of its confidential information. Please provide a confidentiality agreement or protective order if you intend to seek confidential documents of Google in your requests, as we will not produce confidential information without entry of a protective order that we deem suitable to protect the confidentiality of our documents.

Google further objects to the requests to the extent they seek information protected by any privilege, including the attorney-client privilege, work product immunity doctrine, common interest privilege, or any other applicable privilege, immunity, or restriction on discovery. We also object to the requests to the extent that they are irrelevant, overly broad, vague, ambiguous, unlimited in time or scope, fail to identify the information sought with reasonable particularity, or impose an undue burden on Google, including by seeking electronically stored information that is not reasonably accessible to Google. Finally, Google objects to the requests to the extent that they seek information that is not relevant or reasonably likely to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the undersigned at the Legal Support Department alias at GOOGLE-LEGAL-SUPPORT@GOOGLE.COM. Additionally, should you wish to seek any judicial relief in connection with this matter, Google requests the opportunity to meet and confer in advance of any such filing. Thank you.

Very truly yours,
